The Rush county chautauqua will enter its twenty-first annual session with prospects of having splendid programs during the seven days it is in session. The assembly continues until Sunday, the sixteenth, and there will be no program Saturday.
Today was the last chance to buy guarantors' tickets at $2.00 and predictions were that all of the 700 tickets issued at this price would be taken by the time the first session opens Sunday afternoon at two o'- clock.

Tickets for children between 8 and 12 years of age may be purchased at $1 each at Hargrove and Brown's or Pitman and Wilson's drug stores, but after today they will be $1.25.

Sunday's program will match up with other opening days, it is believed, with the Garner Jubilee company, an old and established organization of chautauqua entertainers, and Dr. William A. Gaudfield, noted Wisconsin college president, who is a public speaker of more than ordinary ability.

Dr. J. B. Kinsinger, president of the association, will have charge of the opening exercises Sunday afternoon, and will act as platform manager the first day. Other Rushville business men have been selected to act in this capacity during the week.

The Cinderella Play company will give two plays Monday, at 2 p. m., "The Bubble" and at 7:30 "The Cinderella Man," for which the company is named and has won a wide reputation on the chautauqua platform.

COMMISSIONERS WILL ADVERTISE FOR BIDS

Meet This Afternoon to Take up 11th Street Improvement Since
No One Remonstrated

TO BE PAVED WITH CEMENT

The county board of commissioners was to meet this afternoon to instruct the auditor to advertise for bidders on the Eleventh street improvement, which is expected to be built this fall, as no remonstrances have been filed against the proposal to pave the street.

The time for filing remonstrances ended Friday evening as the first notice of intention to issue bonds for the purpose of building the improved road was given twenty-nine days ago.

The notice to contractors will have to be published for three weeks, and it is believed that all of the legal requirements can be met so that bids may be received at the September meeting of the board, which opens Monday, the seventh.

The plans and specifications call for cement and the estimated cost is $46,000. The improvement will begin at Main street and run west more than three-quarters of a mile to Spencer street, passing by the new school building to be built this fall, and cutting through Memorial park at the point where the park boulevard begins.

AMPUTATION NOT NECESSARY

X-Ray Shows W. S. Oneal's Leg Not as Badly Hurt as Thought

The x-ray examination performed Friday afternoon on W. S. Oneal, who is suffering with a badly crushed leg, showed that one of the bones in the leg, was broken, and the other bone was badly twisted and the ligaments torn. The x-ray also showed there was no infection, but
Mr. Oneal will remain at the Dr.
Sexton Hospital for the next ten days. Amputation of the leg will not be necessary.

Mr. Oneal sustained the injury Wednesday evening at the River-way ten off a drag, being pulled by an automobile, and caught his leg in the drag. Before he could get the attention of the driver of the automobile, his leg was badly crushed. Friday, Art Sleman, a wool buyer of Detroit, Mich., visited Mr.
Oneal at the hospital.

BONDHOLDERS ASK FOR PREFERMENT

File Claim Against American Paper Products Company in Circuit Court for $164,115

ANOTHER CLAIM PUT FIRST

Complaint Alleges $40,982.82 Was Obtained Through False and Fraudulent Affidavits

Following the judgment rendered in St. Louis against the American Paper Products company in favor of the Lagerloef Trading company for $80,262, which made the Lager-loef company preferred creditors, a bondholders' committee today filed a claim in the Rush circuit court here for $164,115 and demanded that the bondholders be made preferred creditors.

The claim of the Lagerloef company, similar to the one on which judgment was rendered in St. Louis, was filed in the Rush circuit court June 2, and after two postpone-ments, has been set for a hearing September 14.

The claim of the bondholders committee which was placed on file in court today alleges that the bondholders, who purchased the $400,000 issue, allege that they are entitled to a preferred claim for a portion of $123,132.49, in which sum the receivers for the company are entitled to the bondholders.

The complaint sets out that the claim was secured by a deed of trust and that by its terms, the property mortgaged was to be kept insured by the company against loss by fire, and that in event that any of the mortgaged property should be destroyed by fire, the proceeds recovered on any insurance policies should be applied in payment of the bond indebtedness or used to restore or reconstruct the property.

It further states that a fire did occur and destroy a part of the mortgaged property, and that there was paid by the trustees in the deed of trust to the American Paper Products company, out of the proceeds recovered on the insurance policies, the sum of $100,751.64 for reconstruction purposes.

It is further set out that of this sum paid to the American Paper Products company for reconstruction purposes, only $59,768.75 was actually used to restore and reconstruct the property damaged by fire and that the sum of $40,982.89 was used by the defendant corporation for purposes other than reconstruction, which amount, it is charged, was obtained through the use of "false and fraudulent affidavits."

DRIVER REACHING FOR A SACK, CRASHES INTO POLE

Albert Stevens, Local Attorney, Suffers Cuts and Bruises in Automobile Accident

THROWN INTO WINDSHIELD

The divided attention of an experienced driver, again was the cause of an accident in which two men barely escaped serious injury late Friday afternoon, when a Ford roadster with a rear truck, driven by a man giving his name as E.
Sudler, an employee of the Meskill Music Company, of Indianapolis, crashed into a telephone pole at the corner of Perkins and Sixth streets, damaging the car slightly and injuring Albert Stevens, local lawyer, who was riding in the car.

The two men were going west in Sixth and according to reports, Sudler was "reaching" for a sack of plums in the seat when he lost control of the car, and forgot to make the turn at Perkins.

The car hit the pole and Mr. Stevens was thrown forward through the windshield. The fact that Sudler was behind the steering wheel was the only thing that saved him from being injured. Stevens was cut about the forehead and left wrist.

A consol phonograph which the two men were delivering was strapped on back of the car but it was not damaged. The front fenders were bent, the radiator damaged and windshield on the car broken.

Wounds on Stevens were dressed immediately and the car was taken to a garage for the slight repairs needed.

SUSPECT IN STRAUGHNS THEFT

William Hightower Arrested in Tif-ton, Ga., For Bank Robbery

A man giving his name as William Hightower of Tifton, Ga., has been arrested at Hardinsburg, Ky., and is being returned to Newcasle by Sheriff Bradley, as a suspect in the robbery of the Straughns bank, a few weeks ago. The man has not confessed, according to the officers, but they are confident that he is one of the three alleged bandits.

The man was traced through the Bankers' Protective Association.
Photographs were sent back and women of Straughns identified them.
According to the officers, the man has a prison record, having served a term in the Atlanta prison for robbing a postoffice.

HOSTS OF KU KLUX KLAN SWARM INTO WASHINGTON

Hooded Thousands Pour Into National Capital for Demonstration of Manpower of Order

GIGANTIC PARADE IS PLAN

By PAUL R. MALLON
(U. P. Staff Correspondent)

Washington, Aug. 8—The hosts of the Ku Klux Klan, throwing secrecy to the winds, poured into the nation's capital in unnumbered thousands today for a monster demonstration of the manpower of the hooded order.

While marines and police stood guard at the treasury and principal buildings, 43 special trains began unloading Klansmen and their families at the union station shortly after midnight.

Roads for miles around Washington were choked with automobile caravans bringing other Klansmen whose camp fires flared last night at several concentration points.

A gigantic parade in which at least 50,000 knights of the Ku Klux Klan were to take part was to start at 3 p. m., and probably will continue far into the night.

FUNERAL AT CONNERSVILLE

Indianapolis, Ind., Aug. 8—Funeral services for Joseph J. Cole, President of the Coal Motor company, who died Friday night at the Claypool will be held Tuesday morning at Connerville, Ind., according to tentative plans announceed today.

ONE MORE APPEARANCE IN COURT FOR SCOTT

District Attorney Asks Change in Sentence so He Will Be returned to Sheriff if Sane

SCOTT SAYS HE'S SANE

Chicago, Aug. 8—Another appearance in court stood between Russell T. Scott and the Chester asylum today.

The man who escaped the gallows in a dramatic sanity hearing and then vigorously denied that he was insane, was to come before Judge Joseph B. David once more before beginning the asylum term that has been substituted for hanging.

On request of the state's attorney's office, Judge David was to change the wording of Scott's sentence so that if he again becomes sane the superintendent of the asylum will be responsible for delivering him back to the sheriff of Cook county. The original sentence said virtually the same thing but failed to name the superintendent.

Under the Illinois law should the slayer of Joseph Maurer, a drug store clerk, regain his sanity, he must be brought back to Chicago for hanging.

In an interview with newspaper shortly before going to court this morning, Scott again declared that he was "as sane as any of you here" and that in time the truth about the shooting would clear him of all suspicion.

Scott, a millionaire at the age of 22, claims that he was framed by "Canadian men of wealth and influence" and that his brother, Robert who is missing, did the actual shooting during a drug store holdup in the Chicago loop.

SAYS COOLIDGE IS HOPEFUL

Hoover Quotes President as Favoring Non-Interference

Swampscott, Mass., Aug. 8—
"President Coolidge believed that industries, including the anthracite, coal industry, should settle their own labor relation," Secretary of Commerce Herbert Hoover said today after a conference with the president on the coal crisis.

"The president therefore, is hopeful that the industry will find its solution in the present situation," Hoover said. The president and Mr.
Hoover hope, and believe there is still a chance for the operators and miners to avert the strike and do not propose that government interference shall complicate the question.

BIRTHS DOUBLE DEATHS IN JULY

Vital Statistics For County Reveals 27 Births and 13 Deaths—Only Two Diseases

RUSHVILLE FELL BEHIND

Only Four Births and Five Deaths Reported for This City During Entire Month

Births more than doubled the number of deaths in Rush county during the month of July, according to the vital statistics on file at the office of Dr. E. I. Wooden, county health commissioner, in which a total of 27 births and 13 deaths were reported.

The territory outside of the city, took the bid lead during the month, when 23 newcomers were registered on the books, and only four births were reported within the city.

This is by far the lowest number in months, with July, 1921, holding the record for three births. On the other hand, the four births in Rushville were offset by five deaths. Of these deaths, two were non-residents of the county, who died here, one on a visit, and the other at a local hospital.

July was out in front on contagious diseases, with only two cases reported in the entire county—one case of diphtheria and one of chickenpox. The former was in the rural district, and the latter in Rushville city.

The names of the babies, as reported for the month, and their respective townships, are as follows:

SNOWBALLS IN AUGUST

[Snowballs in August are among the freaks of nature, and the snowball bush in the yard of Dr. W. H.
Monks, in West Third street, is attracting considerable attention. The bush is coming out with many of the snow balls in full bloom, the second "crop" this season. The blooms always appear in the early spring time, and are among the first flowers to blossom out in the spring.

TO STUDY BEST TYPE OF FARM ANIMALS

Boys on Livestock Tour Next Tuesday Will Be Given chance to See The Best

ALL BOYS ARE ELIGIBLE

Committee Interested in Ages 15 to 19 to Develop State Fair Judging Team

Rush county boys will have an opportunity to study some of the best types of farm animals to be found, on livestock tour to be held here next Tuesday, it was announced at the county agent's office.

Boys will have opportunity to study confirmation of a brood mare on Miller Whitton's farm weighing more than one ton. In arranging the schedule for the livestock tour, the committee attempted to locate the most quality stock with the least amount of driving. As a result the boys will be within a half mile of Rushville from 9:00 a. m. to 2:00 p. m., when they will drive to Noah Webb's farm south of the city.

All Rush county boys are eligible for the tour. However, the committee is especially interested in the boys between the ages 15 and 19 years, inclusive, as they hope to develop a live stock judging team which will represent Rush county at the state fair, Tuesday Sept. 8.

All of the boys taking part in the tour next Tuesday are requested to be at the county agent's office at Rushville to study dairy cattle and hogs. Mr. Boyd has several outstanding Jersey cows. He is also recognized by hog breeders as one of the best feeders of breeding hogs in Rush county.

At 1:00 p. m. the boys will go to Miller Whitton's farm just at the east edge of Rushville. During the last ten years the majority of farmers have lost more or less of their interest in keeping a fine stable of horses. It is believed that Mr. Whitton has a group of mares on his farm which can hardly be duplicated any place else in the country. Farm boys have a conception of what a ton truck means these days but few of them realize just how large a brood mare is which weighs a ton.
The boys attending the tour will have an opportunity to study the conformation of a mare on Mr.
Whitton's farm which weighs more than a ton. At 2:15 the boys will begin work on a class of sheep at Noah Webb's farm (southwest of Rushville). Mr. Webb has an excellent flock of sheep, and vocational teachers promoting lamb clubs in adjoining counties have been coming to his farm for the last few years because they say that Mr. Webb's animals always develop into state fair winners.

WHEAT TURNS OUT WELL ON MANY COUNTY FARMS

Number of Averages Above 20 Bushels, with One Crop of 280 Acres Making 24 Bushels

ONE FIELD AVERAGE 32

Since the report of the exceptional wheat yield on the farm of J. M.
Amos, south of Rushville, where one field made 35 bushels to the acre, several other large field and crop averages have been noted.

Ora Lower of Walker township is believed to have the best crop average for its size in the county, as 200 acres of wheat on his farm produced an average of 24 bushels to the acre.

W. D. Root's crop of sixty acres made 24 bushels to the acre and S.
B. Anderson's crop of forty acres averaged 26 bushels.

Sylvester Gwinnup realized an average of 28 bushels per acre off of 46 acres and Jesse Nelson got 25 bushels to the acre off a field of 17 acres. S. L. White reports an exceptionally high yield, with twenty acres averaging 32 bushels to the acre.

There has been further delay to threshing, due to rain, this week, and there is still considerable wheat in the shock to be threshed.

SAYS CRIME WAVE IS CUT ONE HALF

General Smedley Butler of the Marines, Director of Safety in Philadelphia, Makes Statement

MANY BOOTLEGGING RAIDS

Statistics Show 500 Arrests Each Month, and Gambling Has Diminished—Autos Cause Trouble

Philadelphia, Aug. 8.—"I've made it just twice as difficult for crooks and bawdy women to raise hell in Philadelphia as it was the day I took charge of the police department."

"And yet, people are betting in the corridors of city hall, right outside my door, that I will be dismissed before night. Now the betting is 5 to 3 that I'll be out within five days."

General Smedley Butler of the Marines, now director of public safety of Philadelphia, thus summed up the results of his administration to date, in an interview given the United Press. In a year and a half, crime and vice have been cut 50 percent, he said.

General Butler, in shirt-sleeves, sat at a big desk, littered with charts and sheets of paper covered with figures. His uniform coat, the left breast adorned with many ribbons acquired in his campaigns with the Marines, was slung over a chair. Charts with zigzag red and black lines, showing the proportion of crimes to arrests, week by week, hung on the walls of his big room in the city hall.

"There's no truth in that story that I've given up Philadelphia as a bad job and that I'm already to quit at the end of another six months," he said. "That's all garbled—everything I say is garbled, twisted, distorted, to suit the wets or dries, and the politicians."

"My leave from the Marines expires at the end of another six months. After that, it's up to the President of the United States, whether I stay here. He's my boss."

"I've been here since Jan. 1, 1924, so this is my second year and I've found out that the people of Philadelphia are no better and no worse than anybody else. The law can be enforced here, provided I have the tools to work with. It's the dishonest policeman who is my chief handicap. Many of the police are dishonest, and are looking for graft. Of course many of the policemen are very honest men. And again, some of the honest men are afraid. They know I'm only here temporarily, and they're afraid of what will happen to them after I'm gone. Honesty and courage don't seem to go hand in hand.

"As the Bible says, 'the love of money is the root of all evil.'"

"I'm steadily increasing the number of honest men on the force, and the more of them we have, the harder the going will be for the crooks."

The general reached for a bundle of statistical sheets, to show the trend of the war on crime. He spread them out, as he used, to spread out his war maps in the old marine days.

And tracing a blunt finger down the columns, he showed that there were 478 hold-ups in the first six months of 1923, and only 185 in the first six months of 1925.

In the first six months of 1923 property stolen (exclusive of automobiles) totaled $1,068,000; in the first six months this year the total was $327,000.

The automobile thefts have gone down to such an extent that two insurance companies which withdrew from Philadelphia because the risk was too great, have re-entered this field.

"The assignment house have practically disappeared from Philadelphia," said General Butler. "The automobile has taken its place."

"And why is the assignment house out of business. Here's why. In the first five months of 1923, only three such houses were closed in this city. But in the same period in 1924 we closed 74 of them, and in the first five months this year we shut 19 more."

General Butler went on to give statistics on bootlegging, gambling, house-breaking, commercialized vice and other crimes, showing a corresponding sweep downward in each.

"As for bootlegging," he said, with a grim smile, "we have 500 healthy pinches a month. I don't mean little affairs where we get only half a pint. I mean real pinches. We've padlocked a million dollars worth of property."

Such things as night clubs, where you pour your own, are practically non-existent in Philadelphia.

General Butler was reminded of the numerous night-clubs in New York.

"How would you like to be turned loose on New York for awhile?" he was asked.

"No," he cried, throwing up his hands and then running his fingers through his shock of iron-gray hair. "Not New York. This is enough. When I'm through here, I'm done."

There is something special in the want ads every day—for you. Are you taking advantage of it?

BIBLE THOUGHT

FOR TODAY

Thou shalt not covet thy neighbor's wife, nor his house, nor his land, nor his man-servant, nor his maid, nor his ox, nor his ass, nor anything that is his: only thou shalt fear the Lord thy God: for this is the end of thy duty.

Better Than Silver and Gold

Godliness with contentment is great gain. For we brought nothing into this world, and it is certain we can carry nothing out. And having food and raiment let us be therewith content.

1 Timothy, 6: 6, 7, 8.

Prayer:—O Lord, we thank Thee that when we have Thee we have all and abound.

Lessons Learned Too Late

Why is it the average young man, when near maturity, has an intense longing for life in the big city?

Why is it that millions of men of maturity in the city have an equally intense longing for the peace and quietude of the rural districts they left in their younger days?

The country town does not blaze with the bright lights of life as do the big cities. It is quiet and subdued in comparison.

Its citizens' words are as good as their bond and their reputations stand high in the sight of their fellowmen, but the variety and excitement that appeals to youth is too often missing. Hence young men and women become fretful and impatient of restraint, and finally break the home ties and rush into the mad stream of metropolitan existence.

Once in the large city, possibly one in ten meet with a comfortable measure of success as the world views it, and a few force gradually to the front. In time these few are known to the world as self-made men. The other nine are not so fortunate.

Opportunities are numerous, it is true, but where there is one opportunity, there are scores of young men waiting to grasp it. Competition is highly developed.

Thus the great majority of young men from the country who go to the city expecting to set the world on fire find that about the best they can do is to burn the candle at both ends.

Ton proud to go back home and confess failure, they plug along and do the best they can, disillusioned and wiser, but no better off.

They are the millions who later in life long for the peace and quiet of the home town they left in their youth.

The remedy is simple enough. Every small community can hold its young people by supplying some of the things that lure them away; by not expecting them to work any harder than they would have to, if they went to a city for employment; by making the hours of employment no longer than the city's.

Young men and women will keep "up with the times." They demand the conveniences and the recreations that their big city brothers and sisters enjoy. If they are not supplied at home, they will seek them elsewhere when they grow old enough to support themselves.

Life is full of changes and there is only one end for the people who are not willing to change with the times.

Petty Bootlegging

The United States district attorney in New York City has started a drive to clean up a crowded docket of petty liquor offenders in order that he may go after the big dry law violators.

"We want to clear ourselves of all stock of this character," he said, "and we hope to open in the fall with an entirely new line of prohibition goods. We shall discontinue the 5 and 10 cent counter in accordance with the policy which has been in effect since I took office, so far as new cases are concerned, and we will deal only, generally speaking, in the padlock for the retailer and jail sentences for the bootlegger, the wholesaler, the importer, the manufacturer and the financial backer."

"Prohibition enforcement will get nowhere until the owner of the retail establishment finds himself padlocked on the outside and until the man who supplies him with liquor finds himself padlocked on the inside."

This is a policy that might well be followed by officials throughout the land, whether they be federal, state or local. Prohibition enforcement needs to get at the source of supply, as it has in some instances, because the petty offenders will continue to be violators, after they are fined.

We are promised a new deal in liquor law enforcement after September 1, with a new head and new subordinates. It is said that Lincoln C. Andrews, who has been given complete authority, is a good listener when appeals for jobs are made, and is short on comment.

All well wishers for enforcement are hoping that he can't hear any political pleas and that the law will be enforced on the high and the low alike.

Stewart's Washington Letter

BY CHARLES P. STEWART

WASHINGTON—The various states' ratio of representation in Congress needs overhauling, to put it on an up-to-date population basis.

Representatives from states a readjustment would benefit intend to attempt it next winter. Those from states which would lose by it will fight it, tooth and nail.

It's the same conflict between urban and rural communities that has provoked the revolt of the cities—Chicago, Detroit, Cleveland, and doubtless more, to be heard from soon.

A CONGRESSIONAL reapportionment will be harder to shove off, however, than the demands of the cities are likely to be.

The cities can win fuller representation in their respective state legislatures, or else secede, as independent states, only by decidedly revolutionary means, which they may find exceedingly difficult to put across. The states' congressional representation is supposed to be readjusted after every census.

once in ten years—in the regular way of business—nothing revolutionary about it.

THE only irregular part of the present congressional situation is that reapportionment has been neglected so long. The last census was in 1920, five years back. And there hasn't been a reapportionment yet.

Never but once before was there so long a delay, and that was during the Civil War and reconstruction period, when neither a census nor a reapportionment was possible.

THE nation's congressional representation now is on the basis of the 1910 census. The country has grown greatly since then, but not evenly everywhere.

The cities have grown most, which means that population has increased much faster in states which have large urban centers than in those which are predominantly rural.

Consequently, on a redistribution of congressional seats, the industrial states would gain a good many representatives, while the farm states would lose correspondingly.

THE REPORTER'S NOTEBOOK

Being Random Observations Picked Up During the Week by the Inquisitive Reporter in His Rounds About Town.

Band Instruments Cost Money

Midway in the upper portion of Memorial park, was erected this summer a band stand for the purpose of providing band concerts. The band stand is an exceptionally fine one, and is an addition to the park grounds.

So far, not a horn has been sounded in the stand.

No means have been provided for furnishing finances for band concerts. People surely can't expect the band boys to play without finances, because instruments cost money, and so does music.

Few people know how much money a horn costs. Last week Roy Mitchell, manager of the band and well known tuba player, was unpacking a small parcel that came by mail. He explained that it contained $175 worth—or just one flute. He had purchased it for a member of the band. A few days before, he said that he had purchased a clarinet for $165.

If these small instruments which go into a band cost that much money, one could not expect the band boys to donate their services. Then the big tuba horn that Mr. Mitchell plays cost him $385—the price of a good Ford. If all of the instruments in the band were considered, quite an investment would result.

The city council in making their budget for next year should consider a small levy for the purpose of band concerts, which would encourage a good band, and guarantee a fund for the organization, as well as giving the public the benefit of the money expended.

Carthage P. O. Distinction

It is claimed by Miss Winona Newsom, postmistress at Carthage, that her office is the only one in Rush county on the honor roll with respect to having rural route boxes painted and neatly lettered.

"The Carthage postoffice," says a statement by Miss Newsom, "is enjoying the distinction of having every post and box on the three rural routes painted white and patrons names neatly printed in black letters two inches high—a total of 310 boxes."

"The Postoffice department recently requested all patrons to do, or have this done. This uniformity was made possible by the carriers who did the work at actual cost and in some cases less than cost. The postoffice department expects each patron to keep his box up to the standard at his own expense, which is small compared to the civic pride it adds to the community."

"We wish to solicit your co-operation for the future and thank you for all past favors, which we appreciate."

"Patronize your carriers and please buy your stamps ahead. Many times your letters would go north sooner if already stamped. Yours for service."

To Counteract Lively Ball

By HENRY L. FAIRRELL
(United Press Sports Editor)

New York, Aug. 8—Major League club owners announced recently with much satisfaction that the ball being used on the big time is not a rabbit. They quoted a prominent scientist from the Columbia University faculty who had experimented with balls that has been used in the past five years. He reported there was no difference to be found.

The report caused a general laugh among the ball players, many of whom have little respect for science. They argue that they are in a better position to tell than a professor and not a player will tell you that the ball doesn't come off the bat faster than it did in previous years.

John McGraw, while he was careful not to put his word against that of a scientist, said he would have to take the word of his players and exercise an opinion formed from observation that the ball travels faster, harder and farther than it used to.

It seems significant that John A.

Eydyler, president of the National League, should follow up the report with a suggestion that pitchers be allowed to use resin under the supervision of the umpires.

It is very likely that this suggestion will result in the amendment of the strict pitching rules, which, no doubt, have been a factor in reducing the effectiveness of pitchers and in increasing the regularity of safe hitting and slugging.

It is rather coincidental that at this particular time, the officials of international tennis organizations should also have a ball problem on their hands.

They are trying to get a standard ball to be used every place where tennis is played. Under the present conditions, American players using the English ball in England have a tremendous handicap and British players have the same trouble here with the American ball.

The tennis ball used in all countries now conforms to three specifications—size, weight and height of rebound. But, as a report from the United States Lawn Tennis Association says: "The tennis ball used in the various countries varies by a wide margin in its action off the ground and off the racket. This is due to the fact that tennis balls are being made as hard or as soft as the manufacturer may choose to make them and no two manufacturing formulas agree on this point."

The same principle possible can be applied to the baseball. The life of the ball off the bat may depend upon the hardness or softness of the ball. Manufacturers have admitted that the specifications of the ball have not been changed but that a better quality of wool makes it possible to wrap the ball tighter. This, perhaps, is what has made the ball too lively.

SPORT CHATTER

St. Louis—The St. Louis National League baseball club has been sued for $7,500 as result of a home run "Bottomley" first baseman, smashed into the right field bleachers against Cincinnati June 12. The ball hit Irvin Hayes on the nose and he is suing the club for that amount.

Detroit, Mich.—Edsel Ford has joined Gar Wood and Horace Dodge in entering his best boat in the 105 mile international sweepstake race which will feature the Harmsworth trophy regatta on the Detroit river Sept. 6. Tight boats are entered to date.

Hartford City—New traffic laws in Hartford City have resulted in many affidavits being filed against motorists by Mayor John L. McGeath.

Rivalry Among Athletes Who Will Try to Swim English Channel Becoming Intensified

AMERICAN GIRL INDISPOSED

By SIDNEY WILLIAMS
J. E. Staff Correspondent

Dover, England, Aug. 8—Swimmers of six nations are on hand to attempt the seldom accomplished feat of swimming the English channel.

Rivalry among those who propose to pit strength, skill and stamina against the tides, winds and turbulent channel waters is becoming intensified.

With Gertrude Ederle, American champion, temporarily indisposed, Lillian Harrison, Argentine girl, probably will be the first to start. Miss Harrison planned to leave Gris-Nez on the French coast about midnight tonight.

Setsu Nishimaru, a Japanese swimmer has gone to Boulogne, announcing he will swim the channel at the same time as Miss Harrison. Miss May Victoria, an English girl, and Frank Perks, an Englishman, also are ready to start.

Then there is Halmi, the Egyptian, who already has tried and failed and is training for another attempt, and Mme Jeanne Sions and Lieut. Col. Bernard Freyberg, both of whom lost out by narrow margins this week and are preparing to try again.

KEEPING ONE EYE
ON THE SCORE BOARD

Yesterday's Hero—Roy Spencer, young Pittsburgh pitcher, singled in the ninth inning after two runs had been scored and drove in the run that beat the Robins 10 to 9 and increased the Pirates' lead to 3 1/2 games.

Errors by Ernie Johnson gave the Tigers two runs and they downed the Yanks, 3 to 1.

Ted Lyons won his sixteenth game for the White Sox when he let the Red Sox down with three hits and beat them 2 to 0.

'DEATHWATCH' AS PUNISHMENT

Indianapolis Authorities Adopt Plan —For Auto Killers

Indianapolis, Ind., Aug. 8.—(U.P.) A new punishment for reckless or drunken auto drivers was announced today by Herman Rikheff, chief of police, and William Deepers, deputy coroner.

Each driver responsible for the death of a person will be compelled to spend one hour alone in the morgue with the body of the victim. "That will teach them more than a dozen fines or jail sentences about the cost of reckless driving," Rikheff said.

The "death watch" plan of punishment followed the killing of three persons and injuring of half a dozen others in auto accidents in Indianapolis over the week-end.

BOY READY FOR WHATEVER STATE MAY DECIDE TO GIVE

Discord in Family Circle Prompted Parkersburg, Ia., High School Boy To Shoot Parents

FATHER, MOTHER QUARRELED

Allison, Iowa, Aug. 8.—(U.P.) Warren Vanderwoort, 17-year-old honor graduate of Parkersburg high school today is ready for whatever punishment the state may decide to impose on him for the slaying of his father and the serious wounding of his mother.

Discord in the family circle prompted Warren's attempt to wipe out his parents, the boy intellectually declared in a written confession to the crime.

The father, Rev. R. V. Vanderwoort, was killed instantly early yesterday morning, his youthful son sending six bullets through the minister's head as he lay asleep in the Methodist parsonage.

Mrs. Vanderwoort, unconscious save for a few minutes shortly after she was found, probably will die from bullet wounds.

Young Warren's confession indicates that his mind was unbalanced by constant quarreling between his father and mother. He and his father, however, were pals, the confession says.

NOW DOES ALL HER WORK

Has No Backache, No Bad Feelings Because Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Drove Her Illness Away

Milwaukee, Wisconsin. — "I was in a badly run-down condition and I would get weak spells and terrible headaches. I felt so badly last year that I could not do any housecleaning. The minute I would lift or stoop it seemed as if I was going to fall to pieces. I told a neighbor how I felt and she said that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound was surely the right thing for me. I took four bottles then and in the fall of the year I took three. I had been treated by a doctor but he gave me an iron tonic and that did not help me. It seemed that the tonic did not have in it what the Vegetable Compound did. That gave me the strength and ambition I needed and I have gained in weight. This year before I started to clean house I got four bottles of the Vegetable Compound and am taking it right along. I tell all my friends about it and how much good it does me. They can notice it because I have gained in weight. I weigh 118 now and do all my work myself again." — Mrs. EMIL O. BRANDENBURG, 651 37th Street, Milwaukee, Wisconsin.
